

June 3, 2011

Washington, D.C. – Congressman Jerry McNerney (CA-11) today announced that 15 students from the 11th Congressional District have been accepted to attend a military service academy. Every year, Congressman McNerney nominates high school students from the area for acceptance to these prestigious institutions.

“Every year I’m privileged to nominate exceptional students from our area for appointments to the military service academies,” said Rep. McNerney. “I’m proud that 15 hard-working and talented young people have been accepted to these prestigious institutions this year. They are dedicated students, excellent athletes, and frequent volunteers in our community. We can be proud of what these young people have already accomplished and the commitment they are making to serve our country.”

The following students from the 11th Congressional District have been accepted to military service academies.

United States Air Force Academy

Max Wilkinson, Stockton
Joshua Burdge, Manteca
Trevor Enos, Stockton

United States Military Academy, West Point

Justin Armijo, Ripon
Margaret Berry, Woodbridge
Alexander Ganz, Danville

Thomas Hickel, Danville
Tyler Lightfoot, Discovery Bay
Benjamin Young, Dublin

United States Naval Academy

Audrey Andrade, Manteca
Kelly Fielder, San Ramon
Brian He, Danville
Jordan Latendresse, Danville
Jaqueline Rine, Stockton
William Strauss, Brentwood